Project Narrative

The Liberty University Fieldhouse is a single level structure located at the eastern side of Liberty University's East Campus intramural fields along Liberty Mountain Drive. With its exposed structure entry portals, the facility serves as the operations center for Liberty's field hockey and lacrosse programs. It contains all the amenities required to support successful athletic programs, including coaches' offices, separate locker rooms for both programs, visiting and home team locker rooms, a training room, and concessions area. The facility is also used by various Intramural Sports teams.

Construction required coordination with contractors installing the volleyball courts and fields adjacent to the facility to provide access for material delivery and minimize disruption of activities taking place on each site, as well as coordination with the owner to allow practice and events to be held while maintaining appropriate safety procedures for participants and spectators through completion of the project.
